2021. (5) Bottle Vertical Collection from The Gates Family Private Collection

Suggested Retail Value: Priceless

This exquisite collection of Napa Valley Cabernets would be difficult, if not impossible, to assemble outside of the Drs. Gates' enviable cellar. A perennial favorite in the Stars & Stripes auction, Dr. Rick Gates curates a themed collection each year and the winner is never disappointed. These wines are purchased directly from the winemakers at release and impeccably cellared until delivery to the winning bidder after the event. This year's theme is a play on the term "vertical." In wine parlance, vertical describes tasting the same or very similar wines across a series of years. (It is NOT intended to describe the position you'll be in during or after tasting.) What makes these wines similar is all are rare cabernets from small family wineries in closely related districts within the Napa Valley AVA.

This year's "vertical" collection starts off with 2013 Casa Piena Napa Cabernet, in honor of the favored offensive style of the winery's founder, Carmen Policy, famed President of the San Francisco 49ers. The 2012 selection is the Napa Valley Cabernet of reclusive and exclusive Philip Togni Winery, this tiny (25 acre) family winery produces only about 2000 cases of its elegant and special wines. Your trip down the calendar continues to 2011 Spottswode, internationally regarded and hard to get, this wine will offer you a rewarding outcome from a year many winemakers considered "difficult". The 2010 Cain Five Spring Mountain blend of classic varieties is a slight diversion from single Cabernet grapes and you will be grateful for it, no other Napa wine has established such a distinct class of it's own – we love that Cain hasn't allowed a wine critic on their property in many years – the wine speaks eloquently for itself. Finally 2009, it's hard to believe it was a decade ago! The Sherwin Family Winery Estate Cabernet is aged to perfection and is the appropriate capstone to this beautiful collection of great wines.

With breathtaking holes chiseled into desert foothills at the foot of rugged mountain peaks, Cabo Real's longer back nine presents a great test of golf. Free-form bunkers and small, elevated greens combine with fairways that play along ridge tops, to provide an expansive feel. The 14th hole, at 454 yards, runs along the edge of a steep canyon to a green carved into a precipice at the layout's highest point—nearly 500 feet above the sea. The short par-4 17th hole is a study in clean lines. This right-to-left dogleg is punctuated by two large fairway bunkers, a sentinel cactus and a small green benched into the base of a hill. From an elevated tee, the brawny par-4 18th hole is a classic finishing hole that will force you to navigate the crossing arroyo on the right and the expansive lake on the left.

Vast sandy waste areas, big flashed-face bunkers and sinuous arroyos snaking across the fairways call for careful course management.
